VOLUME CIX.--NO. 28. ALEXANDRIA, VA., SATURDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 1, 1908. PRICE 2 CENTS

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherrybark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Barthlow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in all "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and, through them, the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

MRS. MAITH ACQUITTED.

Mrs. Annie E Maith, who shot and killed Mrs. Sallie Brown when she found Mrs. Brown in the company of her husband, was acquitted by a jury in the Criminal Court in Baltimore yesterday. Her defense was insanity, but the jury simply found her not guilty, saying nothing about insanity, thus upholding the unwritten law.

The evidence showed that Maith had ill-treated his wife, and that she had asked a court for a divorce. In spite of this she loved Maith, and when Maith's attorney in the divorce proceedings threatened to jail Maith because the fee had not been paid, Mrs. Maith sewed far into the night to raise money to pay the lawyer. She also pawned her gold watch.

Mrs. Maith testified that the Brown woman had broken up her home, robbed her of her husband, and made her home wrecked. She said that she had gone repeatedly to the woman and begged and implored her to let her husband alone, and that she was scoffed and jected at and called names.

She had collected the money her husband wanted and was on her way to tell him of his good fortune when she found him in the home of Mrs. Brown.

"I told her," said Mrs. Maith. "that she was doing me a great wrong, that she knew I was in ill health and not able to take care of myself. On the night I went to Mrs. Brown's house I looked through the parlor window and saw my husband and Sallie Brown together.

"After he had gone. I went into the house and asked her why she did not leave my husband alone. She replied: 'I don't have to,' and then tried to grab me. After that I scarcely know just what happened."

Mrs. Maith fired two shots from a revolver she carried in the folds of her dress, killing her rival instantly.

Skin Disease of Twenty Years' Standing Cured.

I want you to know how much Chamberlain's Salve has done for me. It has cured my face of a skin disease of almost twenty year's standing. I have been treated by several as smart physicians as we have in this country and they did me no good, but two boxes of this salve has cured me.—Mrs. Fannie Griffen, Troy, Ala. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale by. W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

Cured of Lung Trouble.

"It is now eleven years since I had a narrow escape from consumption," writes C. O. Floyd, a leading business man of Kershaw, S. C. "I had run down in weight to 135 pounds, and coughing was constant, both by day and by night. Finally I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and continued this for about six months, when my cough and lung trouble were entirely gone and I was restored my normal weight, 170 pounds." Thousands of persons are healed every year. Guaranteed at all drug stores. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Kodol is the best remedy known today for dyspepsia, indigestion and all troubles arising from a disordered stomach. It is pleasant, prompt and thorough. Sold by W. F. Creighton.

CLIFF MILLS.

A fire at Cliff Mills' Friday night, wept nearly every building that was left of that once flourishing and picturesque hamlet. It started in the store about 11 o'clock, the night that the whole Atlantic slope was in the throes of a terrible storm, and destroyed the building where there was a general store and postoffice, kept by Mr. E. C. Parr, though the building was owned by Mr. Hugh Moffet. It then extended to the mill which belonged to E. C. Parr and the "Cliff House" There. was some insurance by Hutton and Payne.

Cliff Mills was at one time the most picturesque spot in the country. Carter's Run nowhere else has banks so beautiful between which it winds up to the mill. Just beyond formerly stood the "Poplar Hill House" the home of the Digges family. On the roadside were a miller's house and residences for several other families, to which were added the cleanest of white washed cottages for the laborers.

It was so still and peaceful, when out of sound of the mill, a passer-by pausing, heard nothing but the faintest ripple of the water and the old clocks beating time in the cottages close to the road.

The Popular Hill House was burned some years ago. The unaided struggle of the jonquils to blossom in the spring, are all that are left to tell where the kindliest and best of people once lived. One by one the houses decayed and fell down.

The fire Friday night took all that remained except one half rotten building which gives additional sadness to the scene of desolation, through which the little stream flows on careless what hand for its little day, pulls the flowers that bloom on its everlasting shore.—[Warrenton Virginian.

It is very important and in fact it is absolutely necessary to health that we give relief to the stomach promptly at the first signs of troubles. Take something once in a while especially after meals; something like Kodo-For Dyspepsia and Indigestion. It will enable your stomach to do its work properly. Sold by W. F. Creighton.

SATURDAY EVENING, FEB. 1, 1908.

THE superior value of municipal bonds as a safe security, as well as a safe investment, is emphasized by the financial bill presented to the United States Senate Thursday. This bill known as the "Aldrich bill" was first presented in the Senate on January 8th, and provided that municipal and railroad bonds (not street railways) could be accepted by the government to enable banks to increase their note circulation. The bill as presented Thursday, is amended to this extent:

The clause of the original bill fixing 75 per cent. of the market value of all municipal and railway bonds as the limit of the issue of notes against them has been amended so that railroad bonds alone are to be taken at 75 per cent. of their market value. Notes may be issued against deposits of municipal and county bonds up to 90 per cent. of their market value.

The bill has been further broadened, for we also find these words:

"Or other legally constituted municipality or district," which have been added, are taken to mean that bonds issued by school districts and townships will be acceptable provided they conform to requirements specified. The population of these municipalities is fixed by the reported bill at 10,000 instead of 20,000, as originally proposed.

Alexandria city bonds of the issue of 1879 which mature in July, 1909, and which are to be refunded, while only bearing 3.65 per centum per annun, for some years past in many cases have sold at par, or their face value. On Tuesday night last the finance committee laid before the City Council a review of the city debt, and among other figures quoted, were those to show that the bonds issued in 1902 bearing four per cent. interest (sold to make improvements to the gas works and to pave King street) brought an average premium of 1.83, the $50,000 netting the city $50,916.41. That loan was limited to $50,000. More could have been sold, but those who controlled the matter wisely decided that the amount was sufficient for all purposes, and what was of greater importance, within the city's resources and proper limitations.

A SYNOPSIS of the President's message to Congress yesterday was published in the Gazette of that day. The message is regarded as one of the most drastic ever issued by a President. It broke all Roosevelt records for attacks on "predatory wealth" and opened a new campaign against it, at the same time announcing an intention to send further messages of the same sort until the President gets the legislation he wants. Among other things he calls for action to secure better control over business concerns engaged in interstate commerce; a certain measure of federal control over physical operations of railways; forbidding use of mails and telegraph and telephone lines for gambling in stocks and futures and full power to the Department of Justice to deal with great corporations. The following are some of his utterances:

I do not for a moment believe that the actions of this administration have brought on buisness distress. * * *

It is due to speculative folly and flagrant dishonesty of a few men of great wealth, who seek to shield themselves from the effects of their own wrongdoing by ascribing its results to the actions of those who have sought to put a stop to the wrongdoing.

But if it were true, to cut out rotteness from the body politic I should not for a monent hesitate to put the knife to the corruption. * * *

We act in no vindictive spirit and we are no repecters.

The "business which is hurt by the movement for honesty is the kind of business which, in the long run, it pays the country to have hurt.

Certain wealthy men whose conduct should be abhorrent to every man of ordinarily decent conscience have during the last few months made it apparent that they have banded together to work for a reaction.

Their endeavor is to overthrow and discredit all who honestly administer the law.

UNOFFICIAL but positive announcement was made in New York yesterday from the highest sources in steel circles that no reduction would be made in steel or even in iron ore prices. At the conclusion yesterday of a meeting of seventy representatives of the country's largest steel interests it was conjectured that a reduction had been decided on to promote building and track-laying. The steel men held, however, that a reduction would result in no great increase in business. There was a strongly optimistic note made by every one present Chairman E. H. Gary later confirmed the statement that the directors had decined not to make any change in prices. His official statement declared the decision was unanimous. Thousands of workingmen are idle in the great iron and steel and allied industries. The business of the railways has fallen off one-third. All constructive undertakings dependent upon iron and steel supply are in a state of either embarrassed and sickly operation or of complete suspension. In the face of this disastrous situation the giant monopolies that have control of the ore beds and of iron and steel production grimly reduce output, discharge workmen and keep prices at the top notch. They are as ready (with tariff aid) to skin the consumer in the time of his adversity as in seasons of prosperity. They might revive business by reducing prices. They might relieve distress. They might set idle hands at work. But a policy of stand-still pays better.

HARRY THAW, who nineteen months ago shot and killed Stanford White in Madison Square Garden, New York, was today declared not guilty as indicted. He was acquitted on the ground of insanity, and will be sent to an asylum. The men comprising the jury were doubtless the best judges of the matter, and if those guarding the peace and dignity of the State of New York are satisfied the country at large will not be disposed to question the wisdom of the verdict. There can be no doubt, however, that Thaw is as much of a Count of Monte Christo as was White. They were both bent on passing a butterfly existence and getting all possible out of life. It was a case in which two equally depraved men met when one fell the victim of the jealousy of the other. The Thaw case has been before the world for a long time. The slayer of White has had two trials, and the matter is now at an end. Most newspaper readers will breathe a sigh of relief and turn their minds to reading matter of a more edifying nature.

THE night school recently organized in this city for the benefit of youths who have no time to study during the day was closed last night for the want of patronage. Over a dozen pupils were enrolled at first, but the number gradually decreased until recently but three appeared. Colonel T. H. Ficklin, who taught the school, and who manifested great interest in it, naturally became discouraged at the lack of appreciation of the institution, as did certain members of the City Council who had fostered it. There was but one thing do, and that was to close the school, though this has been done reluctantly. This is a sad commentary upon many youths in this city who seem to be more interested in moving pictures and roller-skating than in acquiring an education—an essential to success in this day. There is an observation in the old "English Reader" which is pertinent—"Ignorance is a voluntary misfortune."

THE entering wedge for the gradual draining of the treasury by a system of bounties to mail-carrying vessels was presented in the Senate on Thursday when the committee on commerce favorably reported a bill, the effect of which would be to give about $4,000,000 in bonuses to vessels of the second-class on routes to South America, the Philippines and Australasia. The bill merely classifies these as vessels of the first class, which get $4 per mile. In this way the ship subsidy plan has undergone a shrinkage from the elaborate bill prepared by Senators Hanna and Frye a few years ago, that would in a short time have cost at least $200,000,000 per annum, to a measure making available a sum of less than $4,000,000. But when the granting of subsidies has once begun it is hard to tell where it will end.

From Washington.

"Great campaign material" is the verdict of politicians of both parties, today, expressing their opinion of the President's special message to Congress. "Safe, sane, but tame; Rooseveltian in spirit, but lacking his fire" is their sum-up of the speech made by Governor Hughes at New York last night. The message and the speech are being coupled, as though they were "twin turns," given at the same vaudeville performance. From the standpoint of the fellow in the gallery, the President's contribution certainly made the greatest hit. "As a vote-getter, it ranks with the best things the President has ever done" exclaimed one of the most ardent supporters of Secretary Taft "and will make splendid campaign medicine for the secretary. "There is nothing in Hughes's speech of consequence that has not been said better and more forcefully by the President." The democrats are preparing to make good political hay out of the two documents. Democrats generally are asserting that both the presidential message and gubernational speech are revisions and copies of Bryan's former utterances. The more radical of the President's critics and even some of his friends are again loudly declaiming that Roosevelt is "out for the third term," and that "the message proves it." After receiving such a broadside, the voters of the country will be stampeded, they say, and all talk of appeasing the populace with an "imitation of Roosevelt," in the person of Taft, or any other man, is ridiculous. Whatever the President's purpose in sending the document to Congress yesterday, one fact stands out the Hughes declaration of principles was was well nigh smothered.

Of much interest to the churches in the neighboring section of Virginia are bills introduced in congress by Mr. Carlin, providing that the findings of the court of claims in the case of these churches against the government be carried into effect. The names of the churches damaged in the Confederate war and the amount awarded to them by the court of claims have heretofore been published.

Senator Martin yesterday introduced in the Senate a bill proposing to pay to the trustees of the Mount Olivet Methodist Protestant Church, of Alexandria county, $3,400, to carry out the award of the Court of Claims for damages inflicted upon the church in the civil war.

Mr. Carlin has introduced bills in the House for the relief of M. F. Snider and for the relief of William F. McKimmy, administrator of John McKimmy, deceased.

News of the Day.

Dennis O'Sullivan, famous Irish actor, died in Grant Hospital, at Canton, Ohio, this morning. He had been operated upon for appendicitis.

Fire which broke out in a saw mill at the Mount, Clare Baltimore, shops of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at midnight, caused a loss estimated at $40,000.

Former President John L Hamilton, of the American Banking Association, denounces the Aldrich financial bill as a step backward toward wildcat financiering.

Three Italian silk mill strikers were yesterday sentenced at Belvedere, N. J., to three years' imprisonment and to pay the costs of prosecution for beating Gustawa Delcusta, a non-striker.

Nelson Carter, and his grandson, Nelson Carter, the second, were burned to death in a fire that destroyed the Buswell House, Watervleit, N. Y., this morning. They were asleep at the time the fire occurred.

Five persons were burned to death and 15 injured in a fire in a boarding house in Kansas City, Mo., this morning. The survivors escaped scantily clad and suffered intensely from exposure. The temperature was the lowest of the year and the ground was covered with snow.

An action has been begun in the United States Circuit Court at Salt Lake, Utah, by which the government feels confident it will be able to smash into smithereens the gigantic Harriman system. The charge is that through an illegal conspiracy, Harriman and his associates absolutely control the transportation business in the vast domain between the Mississippi river and the Pacific Ocean, south of Portland, Oregon.

Virginia News.

The republican State committee will meet in Richmond this evening.

William E. Beasley, one of Petersburg's best known citizens, died suddenly yesterday.

Edward C. Harrison, of Westover, superintendent of public schools of Charles City county, died in St. Christopher's hospital, in Norfolk, yesterday, of paralysis, aged 60 years.

Mrs. Eliza M. Hughes, widow of Federal Judge Robert W. Hughes, and mother of Robert M. Hughes, lawyer, and Floyd Hughes, collector of customs for the port, died yesterday at Norfolk, after a short illness in the eighty-third year of her age.

On Friday afternoon of last week while the funeral services of the late Joseph Cooper were in progress, the Episcopal Church, in Fairfax, caught fire at the point in the ceiling where the stove pipe enters the flue. The fire was soon extinguished and before much damage had been done.

OPERATOR MURDERED.

Barney A. McGee, 22 years of age, employed as day telegraph operator for the Atlantic Coast Line Railway Company at Collier's Station, in Dinwiddie county, a short distance from Petersburg, was shot to death yesterday in cold blood by an unknown negro tramp. The pistol ball entered the right temple. The negro had kindled a fire on the side of the railway track, close to several freight cars, and when McGee protested against the fire being there a quarrel ensued, during which the negro fired the fatal shot.

The negro also fired at another white man named A. P. Faulkner, of Petersburg, a friend of McGee, the ball passing through the lapel of his overcoat.

Notwithstanding his mortal injury, McGee returned to his office and telegraphed the circumstances to Petersburg and asked for assistance. He died a few minutes after sending the message and before assistance reached him.

A large posse was scouring the woods yesterday for the murdered, but up to a late hour last night no trace of him had been found.

The murdered man was a son of Barney A McGee, section master of the Atlantic Coast Line Railway, and for a year or more was a conductor on the street electric railway in Petersburg.

In response to a telegram Hurricane Branch left Suffolk last night with his best bloodhounds to assist in the capture of the negro.

GOVERNOR HUGHES.

In a speech which he delivered at the Republican Club in New York last night and which seemed to be received with unstinted applause, Gov. Charles E. Hughes enunciated for the first time some of the views he holds on national issues of the day, and laid down the platform upon which his friends will urge his nomination for the presidency.

He said he is for justice to all, but against arbitrary action. He praised the President and declared his administration a party asset and urged imprisonment of corporate officers who violate trusts and defy laws and wants labor protected and commerce regulated. He also opposes socialism. He is for publicity of campaign contributions, and inland waterways improvement for regulation of interstate commerce, explicit anti-trust laws, imprisonment of guilty corporation officers, tariff reform through commission, employers' liability, hours of labor, and safety appliance laws, eventual Phillippine independence, efficient army and navy.

He is against socialism, exploitation of private property, government ownership of railroads, extortion, through protection, party squabbles.

YOUNG COUPLE DROWNED.

Clasped in each other's arms, in full sight of 200 fellow-students, Miss Zella Wylie and R. C. Patterson, of Geneva College, were drowned in the Beaver river near Pittsburg, Pa., yesterday afternoon. They broke through the ice while skating.

Three fellow-students almost lost their lives trying to save them. Miss Wylie was nineteen years old, and the daughter of Rev. R. C. Wylie, pastor of the First Reformed Presbyterian Church of Wilkinsburg, Pa., and for years moderator of the United States Synod of that denomination. She was engaged to young Patterson, who was the leading athlete of his college.

Yesterday evening, skating arm in arm, the couple started down "seven mile level," on the Beaver river. Miss Wylie went into an air-hole, over which the thin ice had formed, and dragged her sweetheart with her.

The bodies of Patterson and his intended bride were found 100 yards below.

The Legislature.

SENATE.

The military establishment had an inning in the Senate yesterday, when the bill to appropriate 1½ per cent. of all of the State's revenues for the improvement and protection of the military was taken up for consideration. The bill was read, and a substitute providing that the sum of $15,000 should be expended in the purchase of a camp site and rifle range, was submitted. After debate the bill was recommitted.

The senate finance committee favorably reported the bill making an appropriation of $20,000 to defray the costs incurred by the members of the State Corporation Commission, employes and the attendant costs in connection with the injunction proceedings in the federal court. The bill was passed.

The senate finance committee made a favorable report of Senator Rison's bill providing for the establishment of a State geological survey, the same to be located at the University of Virginia. The bill appropriates $10,000 for the purposes of defraying the expenses incident to the establishment of the survey, which is to foster and aid in the development of the resources of the State. The conduct of the survey is under the control of a commission consisting of the governor, the superintendent of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, the commandant of the Virginia Military Institute, the president of the University of Virginia and one citizen to be designated by the governor.

HOUSE.

Mr. Jennings offered a bill proposing an appropriation of $1,500 for the purchase of a bust of Gen Fitz Lee.

The House finance committee reported Speaker Byrd's bill providing for the creation of a tax commission to study and readjust the existing tax laws, with a view to a further equalization of taxation throughout the State. The commission is to consist of seven members, who are instructed to report to the next session of the General Assembly.

Eugene C. Massie introduced in the House today a bill providing for the appointment of collectors of delinquent taxes, prescribing their duties and fixing their compensation. The bill was referred to the finance committee.

In the matter of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railway Mr. Caton is said to be ready to offer an amendment to the repeal bill now on the House calendar by which it is proposed to restrict the building of a parallel line until the interest of the State in the road shall have been sold at auction and stipulating that not less than $1,300,000 shall be accepted for that interest. The patrons of the repeal measure will fight any propositions seeking to restrict the bill, making their fight for an unconditional repeal.

The following House bills have been passed:

Amending an act to protect and advance agriculture by regulating the sale and purity of commercial fertilizers.

To legalize the introduction of certain evidence in prosecutions for felonious homicide and assaults with felonious intent.

Fixing the penalty for writing or composing and sending or procuring the sending of letters or inscribed communications threatening to kill or do bodily harm.

To require registrars to certify true lists of all persons registered in their respective districts or wards between January 1, 1906, and the third Tuesday in May, 1908, to the clerks of the Circuit, Hustings or Corporation Courts of their counties, cities or towns; to provide for the recordation of such lists by the clerks.

KILLED BY CYCLONE.

Six persons were killed outright by a cyclone, which laid waste a strip of farming country about a mile wide and several miles long just north of Wesson, Miss., yesterday.

Four persons were probably fatally injured by the storm, and many others were slightly hurt when their homes were blown down.

The tornado occurred about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. For a distance of twenty miles, in a northeasterly direction, the wind tore a pathway nearly a mile wide, partly or wholly destroying nearly every building in this area. Scores of dead farm animals littered the storm's track.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Maddox was blown almost completely off the premises, and Mrs. Maddox's back was broken. A negro was found fatally injured in the debris of Robert Littleton's farm house. The cotton gin and store of Ras Matthews were almost wholly destroyed.

Surrounding towns not in the direct path of storm suffered considerable damage. At Georgetown, buildings were blown over. Center Point reported much damage, but no loss of life.

Darkness settled down so quickly after the cyclone that only an incomplete estimate of the destruction to life and property was obtained.

Advices from Hazlehurst, Miss., report considerable damage to property and some loss of life as a result of a tornado which passed a few miles south of that place yesterday afternoon.

Considerable damage is reported at Millsaps, twelve miles southeast of Hazelhurst.

As nearly as can be learned from the tornado swept district six persons-David Martin and Mrs. Benjamin Martin and four children perished in this vicinity in yesterday's storm. Three others are said to be fatally and a half dozen seriously injured. The storm swept a path nearly a mile wide and it is feared many more will be found to have been killed as fuller information comes. The property damage was heavy in many towns.

Thaw Declared Insane.

New York, Feb. 1.—Harry Thaw was acquitted of the murder of Stanford White shortly after noon today, the grounds being insanity. Immediately after the jury had returned its verdict Justice Dowling committed the prisoner to the asylum for the criminal insane at Matteawan, subject to his possible recovery.

The jury had been out 25 hours almost to the minute, and is said to have taken in the neighborhood of a dozen ballots before reaching a verdict. The next to the deciding ballot is reported to have stood nine for acquittal and three for conviction in some degree of murder less than the first degree.

Burying the argument following this ballot one of the three holding out came over for acquittal and the other two men capitulated.

Evelyn Thaw, wife of the prisoner, and Josiah Thaw, his brother, were in the court-room at the time the verdict was received. Mrs. William Thaw, mother of the prisoner, was at her hotel where the word was phoned her. It is said she fainted upon hearing the verdict.

Upon the jury stating that they had reached a verdict Thaw was told to rise. He did so and the finding of the twelve men that he was "not guilty on the grounds of insanity" was read to him. Thaw who had previously looked heartbroken smiled broadly and resumed his seat, turning to smile at his wife and brother, who returned his greeting.

Justice Dowling forbade any demonstration on the part of the audience. As the jury announced its verdict a young man who later gave his name as Theodore Roosevelt Pell started to clap his hands. Captain Lynch of the court squad immediately placed him under arrest and he was quickly brought before Justice Dowling. A fine of $25 for contempt of court was imposed. This was paid at once.

As the word left the foreman's lips Thaw turned for a single instance and smiled at his wife. The effort was a sickly one, but Evelyn smiled back as best she could. The prisoner's face was ghastly pale, his eyes were staring and a cold sweat had broken out on his brow. Evelyn sat in her chair as if transfixed. There was a look of expectancy on her face as Foreman Gremmels arose and she leaned forward in her chair tense with nervousness.

Immediately after the announcement of the verdict the court began speaking. "This jury has acquitted this defendant on the grounds of insanity. It is not within the province of this court to discharge this defendant." The entire testimony in this case indicates that Harry K. Thaw has been and now is a suffer from 'mania-depressive insanity.' This form of disease has been explained to this court and jury as a disease of the mind which is well nigh incurable. A person suffering from this disease is liable to a maniacal outburst during which the subject may attack and kill his fellows. There are also depressive forms during which the person may kill himself. Therefore upon all of the testimony in this case, this court is satisfied that a grant of freedom to this defendant would be dangerous to the community at large. The court therefore orders that in the interest of public safety that this defendant be recommitted to the Tombs and from there transferred to the State asylum for the insane at Matteawan."

Jerome and Littleton each sought to gain the floor, but Justice Dowling waved them down, before any argument could be offered by either side.

Thaw was then taken back to the Tombs to await the further action of the court which will not be taken until next week. In the meantime Attorney Littleton will seek to have the prisoner committed to some private sanitarium, and it is probable will later ask for an insanity commission before which he will seek to prove Thaw's present sanity.

Justice Dowling then announced that he would remain at the court until 8 o'clock this afternoon in order to give the attorneys for the defense an opportunity to prepare a writ of habeas corpus or take any other action they desire to forestall Thaw's commitment to Matteawan.

Evelyn Thaw, shaking in every limb, darted across the room to greet her husband. But before she had advanced ten steps detective Moore, who has been working for Littleton, intercepted her.

'Wait a while," he said to her. "We will have plenty of time for felicitation later on. Just come with me," and tucking her hand under his arm he led her through the ante room corridor.

Thaw himself was still in a daze. He started to rise, sank back and then under urging from an attendant, got to his feet and bowed and smiled his thanks to the twelve jurymen.

Funeral of Cardinal Richard.

Paris, Feb. 1.—Such a gathering of notables as perhaps never assembled in Paris before attended the funeral services of the late Cardinal Richard in Notre Dame Cathedral today.

Despite the rupture between the French church and state the leading members of the national assembly, the council of State and the magistracy, both Catholic and Protestant, were in attendance. In the funeral cortege were fifty bishops and archbishops, among them the English Archbishop of Westminister, together with hundreds of the lesser clergy.

The cathedral was not only packed, but the streets surrounding and leading to the edifice were almost impassable from the crowds. Thousands marched in the procession.

In accordance with the late cardinal's expressed wish the hearse was of the fifth class, the casket a plain one and the mourners' carriages few. The magnificence of the service and of the turnout in the dead prelate's honor amply made up, however, for this simplicity which was the most conspicuous.

As a somewhat startling sequel to the cardinal's death it transpired today that, a few hours before his death, the expiring prelate predicted, in what the attendants describe as a kind of trance, that the Kaiser's death would shortly follow his own.

Chilians to Welcome Fleet.

Punta, Arenas, Feb. 1.—The Chilean government tender Canez and several private steamships thronged with excursionists have put out to meet and welcome the American battleship fleet off Magdalena Island. Their return, escorting the United States squadron, is expected this afternoon.

The fleet weighed anchor and sailed early today from Possession Bay, 20 miles west of the point where the strait proper begins, Admiral Evans having evidently deemed the navigation of the first and second narrows between Possession Bay and Punta Arenas hazardous.

The two Japanese who landed here from a British ship thirty-six hours ago are now almost certainly known to be naval officers. There seems little doubt they are here, however, merely for information concerning the manner in which the warships withstood the strain of the cruise.

No one believes that they have any hostile intention. They are not attempting to move secretly and it is deemed possible that they may even formally introduce themselves to Admiral Evans.

Another Bank Closed.

New York, Feb. 1—The Home Bank of Brooklyn failed to open its doors this morning. A run on the bank has been in progress for several days. A bank official announced that the State Banking Department has taken charge of the institution. The bank was organized in 1905 and had a paid up capital of $100,000, Its deposits are estimated at $389,000.

Lawson's Offer.

Boston, Feb. 1.—A bet of $100,000 against $15,000 is the offer Lawson made today to back up his confidence that President Roosevelt will get a third term. This has been Lawson's doctrine all along but yesterday's message to Congress, he says, clinches things.

GROUND HOG DAY.

Tomorrow, in the ecclesiastical calendar will be known as Candlemas Day, because on that day the candles in Catholic churches are blessed and carried in the procession before the mass. In the weather traditions it has been considered exactly midwinter in agreement with the old couple:

On Candlemas Day
Have half your wood
And half your hay.

But it is also called "Groundhog Day," according to the superstition prevailing in some parts of America that the groundhog comes out of his hole in the earth on that day, and if he sees his own shadow he returns to his home in the ground and remains six weeks, while the winter continues. Then spring comes and he comes out of his hole again.

But if the groundhog does not see his shadow when he comes out on February 2 he remains out and spring follows at once. During the last fall the American weather prophet groundhog predicted a mild winter, and so far the prediction has been verified. But these predictions only hold until groundhog day, when new observations must be taken. The indications themselves are sometimes doubtful on groundhog day, shadows observed before or after 12 o'clock do not count.

A CLOUD OF WASHINGTON HEIRS.

Some of the Representatives in Congress are becoming convinced that for a childless man, General Washington has more heirs than any man who has ever lived. Since the introduction by Senator Martin and Representative Flood of the bill providing for the appropriation of $305,000 for the reimbursement of the Washington heirs, for lands in Ohio patented to General Washington by Virginia, and then wrongfully patented to homesteaders by the federal government after the Northwest territory was ceded to the United States by Virginia, heirs from all sections of the Union have been heard from.

Texas has furnished a large number. Judge Washington, of Speaker Cannon's district, has come on to Washington to do what he can in behalf of the bill. Judge Washington is said to have more of the Washington blood in his veins than almost any other man. Of course, the fact that he comes from Uncle Joe's district will not embarrass the passage of the bill. The measure on the House side, is pending in the committee on public lands, but it will probably be transferred to the committee on claims.

JUDGE RHEA.

Judge William F. Rhea, of Bristol, was a witness in his own defense yesterday before the joint legislative committee on confirmations in the hearing of the charges brought by Senator Noel, of Lee county, against Rhea's appointment to the corporation commission.

Judge Rhea gave a detailed account of his actions in every case in which the several charges have been made, denying improper motives in each instance. In regard to charges which appeared in a Bristol newspaper concerning his dismissal of the alleged murderer, Jordan, Judge Rhea said that the editor of that paper was one of his bitterest enemies, and that they had frequently had disputes on various political questions.

The committee adjourned until Monday night, when it is expected that Judge Rhea will be cross-examined by the prosecuting attorneys.

CONGRESSIONAL.

In the Senate yesterday Senator Tillman offered two resolutions proposing to enforce the land-grant laws in relation to Western railroads. Senator La Follette introduced a bill proposing to prevent the removal of interstate commerce cases from State to Federal courts. The penal code bill was taken up at 2 o'clock, and at 4:10 p. m. the Senate adjourned until Monday.

In the House a favorable report on the invalid pension bill was received. The Indian appropriation bill, calling for about $8,000,000, was considered by the House in committee of the whole.

John Sharp Williams picked flaws in the present tariff laws, and said that we are taxing intelligence and learning in the taxing of paper and wood pulp.

The committe arose at 5:05, and the House adjourned shortly thereafter until Monday next.

Neglected Colds Threaten Life.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

"Don't trifle with a cold,' is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the chances of a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight. But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well-established ripe cold is the germs of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold." Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given. For sale by W. F. CAPT. BEATTIE ATTACKED.

Commonwealth's Attorney Crandall Mackey, of Alexandria county, recently sent a letter to Capt. Fountain Beattie, U. S. deputy internal revenue collector, asking information concerning the number of liquor licenses granted by the government in Alexandria county. Captain Beattie sent a respectful reply to the effect that it would be an infraction of rules to transmit the information sought by Mr. Mackey. Mr. Mackey then, it is said, went to Mr. Capers, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and bitterly denounced Capt Beattie, and, it is said, designating him as a superannuated loafer. A number of Captain Beattie's friends, upon learning of Mr. Mackey's action, without apprising Capt. Beattie of their intention, called on Mr. Capers in his behalf. The delegation was composed of Congressman Carlin, Mayor Paff, Judge Barley and Messrs. Geo. K. Pickett, M. B. Harlow, Martin Greene and James F. Peyton. Mr. Carlin introduced his associates and while Judge Barley and Mayor Paff were the real spokesmen, each of the abovenamed had something to say in defense of Capt. Beattie, and encoriated the Commonwealth's Attorney for his unwarranted stack upon the inspector Commissioner Capers listened attentively to all that was said, and in summing up the matter said that when the attack was made upon Capt. Beattie he listened to it with caution, having confidence in and respect for the official, but at the same time he realized that Mr. Mackey was the law-officer of Alexandria county, and was entitled to a hearing. He, however, told the delegation that whatever action he might take in the matter would be soley for Capt. Beattie, and that it would not be the result of outside influence. It is understood that Colonel Mosby, when he heard of the attack upon Captain Beattie, used his influence in his behalf, appearing before Commissioner Capers several times before the committee's visit yesterday. Captain Beattie, upon learning of Mr. Mackey's visit to Commissioner Capers and the attack made upon him, wrote a letter to the Commonwealth's Attorney denouncing him in the severest manner, using words conveying the plainest meaning.

Capt. Beattie subsequently received a reply from Mr. Mackey in which the latter disclaimed having used the language attributed to him during his interview with Mr. Capers. Mr. Mackey closed his letter with expressions of esteem for Capt. Beattie.

BETHANY M. P. CHURCH.

DEATH OF B. H. LAMBERT.

Mr. Benjamin H. Lambert, whose critical illness was mentioned in the Gazette, died at his home on Duke street shortly before 3 o'clock this morning. The deceased leaves two children—Mr. Urban S. Lambert and Miss Irene S. Lambert. The deceased was 64 years old, he having been born in this city January 23, 1844. He was a son of the late Benjamin H. and Adaline B. Lambert, and in early life was associated with his father in the importing and commission business. At the outbreak of the civil war, when but a youth, he was a member of the Alexandria Riflemen, afterwards company A of the Seventeenth Virginia regiment and was frequently detailed to do important work for the Confederate government. He returned to this city at the close of the war and resumed his duties in his father's place of business and continued with him until the close of the house. He later represented the First ward in the Common Council and was for a time chairman of the committee on streets, during which time he personally supervised much street improvement made at that time. He was also Deputy Collector of the Port during Cleveland's first administration. Mr. Lambert was a man above the average in intelligence, and he had many friends and acquaintances who will regret to hear of his death.

PERSONAL.

Rev. J. R. Sevier, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, has returned from Danville where he spent the past ten days in evangelistic work.

Rev. George F. Schmit, missionary of the State of Virginia, will preach tomorrow at 11 a. m. at the Immanuel Lutheran Church.

A delightful surprise party was given Miss Catherine Arnold by her friends Thursday night at her home, 219 south Lee street. Among the guests were Misses Hazel Ale, Ethel Dix, Verna Bittle, Fannie Hasson, Katie Eaton, Blanche Bittle, Helen Corbett, Mellie Chauncey, Kattie Adcock, Ruth Gerlacher, Alice Ross, Elizabeth Munford, Kathaleen Hasson and Alice Ale, and Messrs. Archie Fair, Reginald Cox, Lawrence Corbett, Milton Burnell, Leroy Bittle, Elliot Hoffman and D. Arnold.

CARS TRANSFERRED.

The Southern Railway Company yesterday transferred all their freight cars from the Potomac yards to this city. Many were placed on Union and Wilkes streets. This was preliminary to the making up of trains in future in their own depot in this city.

Seventy men have been discharged from the Potomac yards during the past few days.

A bulletin was posted by the Southern Company this morning near Roberts' crossing announcing the establishment of a "cut-off" at that point—that is, in future locomotives must be detached from incoming passenger trains and others attached therto to pull trains to Washington. The incoming engines will subsequently proceed to the round house in this city.

CHURCH NOTES.

The men's meeting, tomorrow will be held in the First Baptist Church at 3 p. m. Rev. E. E. Dudley, who is assisting Dr. Fisher in a meeting will speak. His subject will be "Sunshine and Darkness." There will be suitable music. Mr. Dudley will preach Sunday morning and night, and every night during next week.

In deference to the meeting for men in the Baptist Church Sunday afternoon, the men's meeting in the Young People's Building of the M. E. Church South will be omitted.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held last night at which a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Marshal L. King, Albert D. Brockett, and Julian Y. Williams, appointed at a previous meeting to prepare plans for the annual banquet, made its report. It was decided to hold the banquet about the middle of February, and to invite guests of prominence in the railroad and mercantile world for the purpose of interchangeing opinions concerning the advancement of the commercial interest of this city.

LEFT COLLATERAL.

About six months ago a young man of this city became involved in a difficulty, and realizing that he was to be arrested he fled the city, and went to Wilmington, Del. Yesterday he reappeared here and proceeded to the station house where he left collateral for his appearance should a warrant be issued. The young man stated that he had returned to Alexandria for the purpose of getting married and had left the collateral in order that his honeymoon might not be interrupted.

SNOW AND RAIN.

Snow began to fall last night, and after the ground had been well-covered rain set in, rendering conditions without doors exceedingly disagreeable. The temperature rose during the night, and this morning the streets were covered with snow, slush and water. Later the winds changed to the west, and clearing conditions followed.

Y., had a very remarkable experience; he says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two called it kidney trouble; the fourth, blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed for blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by all druggists, fifty cents.

Animal Instinct.

A friend of mine saw two cats approaching each other on the top of a board fence. There was no room for them to pass each other, and he wondered what would happen. When they were near each other one of them stopped, turned around and retreated till it came to another board fence that joined at right angles the one they were on. The cat stepped off on this fence and waited there till the other went by. My friend thought this act showed an appreciation of the problem beyond the reach of instinct. No doubt those cats had met before, and one was master of the other. What more natural than that the defeated cat should retreat before the superior and when it came to the other fence step off upon it and let the victor pass? The action involved no mental process any more than when two inert bodies in motion meet each other and one gives way. There was no other course open to the cat. If she or he had turned back and taken to the side fence solely to accommodate the other cat, why, that were another matter.

The Gordon setter that met a train of cars upon a railroad bridge and stepped down upon one of the timbers of the bridge and stood there while the train passed gave no proof of reasoning powers. It was the only thing the dog could do. Nearly all animals know enough to get out the way of danger. If they did not, what would become of the race of animals?—John Burroughs in Outing Magazine.

Old Roman Laws.

The old Roman laws, according to Colquhoun, conferred on the husband complete empery over the wife. All she owned or earned was vested in him, and he acquired the same rights over her person and property as if she were his natural daughter. The wife, on the other hand, acquired all the rights to a child and to her husband's name and succession in the event of an intestate estate, and she could exercise all the privileges to which her sex admitted. The power of the ancient Roman father over his offspring was originally perpetual, nor could the child be emancipated from the father's control during the father's life except by that parent's consent, nor did he become sui juris until the father (being himself sui juris) died, when the son was emancipated by the simple operation of the law. In those brave days the father had legal permission to scourge his children or to send them, fettered like slaves, to work on his estate or even to kill them, choosing whatsoever means for their taking off he thought proper.

How the Brahman Cleans His Teeth.

When the Brahman cleans his teeth he must use a small twig cut from one of a number of certain trees, and before he cuts it he must make his act known to the gods of the woods. He must not indulge in this cleanly habit every day. He must abstain on the sixth, the eighth, the ninth, the fourteenth, the fifteenth and the last day of the moon, on the days of new and full moon, on the Tuesday in every week, on the day of the constellation under which he was born, on the day of the week and on the day of the month which correspond with those of his birth, at an eclipse, at the conjunction of the planets, at the equinoxes and other unlucky epochs and also on the anniversary of the death of his father or mother. Any one who cleans his teeth with his bit of stick on any of the above mentioned days will have hell as his portion.—"Hindoo Manners," by Abbe Dubois.

The Way to the Station.

A party of automobilists was touring through Virginia. An accident to the car forced them to take a train home. As they walked down the road seeking some one from whom they could inquire their way they met an old darky, says the Success Magazine.

"Will you kindly direct us to the railroad station?" one of the party asked.

"Cert'n'y, sir," he responded. "Keep a-goin' right down dis road till yo' gets to where two mo' roads branches out. Den yo' take de lef' one an' keep on a-goin' till yo' gets to where de ole postoffice uster be."

Creative.

A certain man coming from abroad was taken up by the smart set.

"We'll make a lion of him," quoth they, "for the distinction he will thereupon reflect upon us."

But the man was too little. It takes much material to make a lion.

"Then we'll make a monkey of him," said the smart set, determined to have some exercise for their creative genius.

Nor was the world the worse off. For, after all, it is the contribution to the gayety of nations that is especially needed.—Puck.

Never Operated by the City.

An electric light plant was installed in Hudson, Wis., nineteen years ago, but, according to the mayor, has never been operated by the city, having been leased successively to various parties. The city also contracts for the pumping in the waterworks, which it owns.

A Good Rule For Corporations.

Tipton's Unprofitable Plant.

The municipal lighting plant of Tipton, Ia., proved unsuccessful. When it burned down, causing a heavy loss, it was not rebuilt, and a contract was made with a private company.
